18TH ANNUAL
ULI Hines Student Urban Design and Development Competition
January 13–27, 2020

Participate in an unparalleled interdisciplinary learning experience and compete for $80,000!

GRADUATE STUDENTS:
• Learn cross-disciplinary practice
• Expand your portfolio
• Connect with ULI members
• Apply your education

FINALIST TEAMS:
• $45,000 to winning team
• $5,000 to winning school
• $10,000 to each of three finalist teams
• All-expenses-paid trip to host city

Register by December 13, 2019, at uli.org/hines.

“Working on an interdisciplinary team has been an enriching, real-world experience. We have learned that good design requires the insights and collaborative efforts of each team member.”

—Caroline Tate, 2019 Finalist, University of Texas at Austin

From left: ULI Americas President Gwyneth Coté, the 2019 winning team from MIT and Harvard, and jury chair Alex Rose.
18TH ANNUAL
ULI Hines Student Urban Design and Development Competition
January 13–27, 2020

Compete for $80,000!

DISCIPLINES:
- Architecture
- Landscape architecture
- Finance and investment
- Real estate development
- Urban planning and design
- Public policy
- Land use law
- Historic preservation
- Engineering and construction
- Community and economic development

Join the ULI Hines Student Competition group on LinkedIn to build a team and connect with professional advisers.